

Redflex Traffic Systems Wins Queensland Infringement Processing Software Contract

20 March 2009

Redflex Traffic Systems Pty Ltd, a wholly owned subsidiary of Redflex Holdings Limited, is pleased to announce a contract to supply the Queensland Police Service with the Redflex Image and Infringement Processing System, (IIPS), valued at approximately $3.75 million.

The win strengthens our presence in Queensland and provides a base for an enduring relationship with the State.

The IIPS system is Redflex's state-of-the-art infringement processing software. IIPS is web-enabled and provides a 3-tier scalable architecture to cater for flexible business requirements and large volumes. The system manages the full life-cycle of the infringement, managing images directly from digital enforcement camera systems or scanning developed film from analog cameras. Images are automatically presented to operators for adjudication, license lookup and quality assurance processes, after which an infringement notice is sent to the offending driver. The system interfaces to court systems and tracks the notice until payment is received.

All correspondence associated with any infringement is scanned, and automatically attached to the infringement records in the system. The processing centre operates as a paperless office, with all information available at the press of a button.

Redflex Traffic Systems Pty Ltd manufactures and supplies traffic cameras and processing systems to world-wide markets. Redflex is the market leader in Australia and has either won or is developing significant opportunities in the Middle East, Asia, Africa and Europe.

Redflex Traffic Systems Inc has contracts with more than 235 U.S. cities, and is the largest provider of digital red light and speed enforcement services in North America. With photo speed programs in 9 states and photo red light programs across 22 states, Redflex has consistently led the market in contract wins, system installation rates and market share.
